

Free One-on-One Consultations

Request a free energy bill consultation

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) of Minnesota is non-profit organization based in St. Paul that advocates for affordable, reliable and clean energy. One of CUB's core services is to provide free one-on-one energy bill consultations to Minnesota consumers.

Individuals bring copies of their natural gas and electric bills and CUB's expert staff highlight ways to reduce energy consumption, share information about programs and rebates, provide information on income-based assistance when applicable, and can discuss options for renewable energy. Consumers can bring any concerns they may have about their household energy bills.

Consultations usually take about 20 minutes and can take place in person, over the phone, or via Skype.

The service is available to all Minnesota residents, free of charge.
